presents: Courage - Tackling Tough Topics

Communication should be simple and involved, however people make talking tough with their perceptions, agendas, personalities, lack of empathy, and more! Whether it's communication between your staff internally, or with your vendors or customers, externally, talking can be tough! In this session we will address how to face tough talks, people's natural reactions to tough conversations, and how to navigate those conversations. We will also discuss how to focus on your own emotions and thoughts, and how to objectively view all facts, in order to ask the tough questions to get the right answers and communicate effectively with your staff, vendors, and/or customers.

Seating is limited, and lunch is provided. Please visit www.pikeroad.us to reserve your seat by June 18!
