A Note from Mayor Gordon Stone

“As we look forward to warmer weather, we’re also excited about all the opportunities spring brings to the Town of Pike Road. We hope you will take full advantage of the activities available through our ENHANCE initiative committees this season!

This weekend, get started by visiting the Pike Road Arts Center. It’s the last chance to explore the Everyday People art show, which wraps up on Sunday, Feb. 19. Also on Feb. 19, the Arts Council’s Classical Masters series continues, featuring the life & work of Beethoven. Plus, there is no better time than now to register for unique opportunities from the PRAC in March! Just in time for Easter, discover the Ukrainian art of Pysanky egg decorating with artist Korey Rowswell on Mar. 3 or 10. Then, dive into watercolor painting on Mar. 23 & 24 as Durinda Cheek returns to host Watercolor Bootcamp II following a sold-out watercolor workshop in January.

We want to hear from you! Please join us at Bloom on Feb. 27 for the Mondays with the Mayor radio program, which is all about giving YOU the opportunity to connect with Mayor Stone and learn about our growing hometown while also shining a light on our amazing local businesses. After stopping by to see us at Bloom, visit Founders Station to take advantage of our annual Alabama Arbor Week Seedling Giveaway, presented Feb. 27 – Mar. 3 in partnership with the Alabama Forestry Commission.

Visit us online at www.pikeroad.us to learn more about these events and everything happening in our hometown. As always, we will continue to pray for you, and we encourage you to pray for each other.

Thank you and God Bless.”
